A note from Mr. Hughes

The last All Pro Dads meeting for this school year is on Friday, May 18th. Please RSVP on-line if you plan to attend. Thanks to Mt. Tabor parent, Bill Wardlaw, for leading this terrific program the last two years. The good news is that we have already had a couple of dads express interest in leading All Pro Dads for the 2018-19 school year.

The PTO held their last monthly meeting of the school year on Monday. Kristi Klimesh will be our new PTO president. Mrs. Klimesh has been very involved in the PTO and will do a great job. We appreciate the work that Natalie Hentrup has done the last two years as president. We are very fortunate at Mt. Tabor to have an active PTO that does so much to support our students, teachers, and staff. If you are interested in getting involved in the PTO please let us know. You can give as little or as much time as you like.

This week is Teacher Appreciation Week. A big thanks not only to our awesome Mt. Tabor teachers, but to teachers across the nation. I appreciate all of their hard work and all that they do to support our students and their learning.

Have a great weekend!!

Knowing When to Wait and When to Discipline

When a conflict is occurring, the adult's focus must be on regaining and maintaining their own composure. The heat of the moment is NOT the time to teach. Only when both you and your child are composed can true teaching and learning take place. By staying composed your child can focus on his choices and subsequent feelings instead of your anger or upset.

Once everyone is calm, you have the opportunity to teach a helpful way your child could have responded. If your child pinched you, you would set the limit and teach him the exact words you would like him to use:

"You may not pinch. Pinching hurts. When you want my attention, say, "Mom, over here!"

If your child continues to misbehave, you may impose a consequence that is related, reasonable and respectful, and that teaches your child that his/her choices have certain prescribed outcomes. Generally, tying the consequence to the loss of an opportunity related to the infraction will have greatest teaching value.

Example: For a child who repeatedly throws blocks, the prescribed consequence would be to put the blocks away until tomorrow.

As always, we wish you well!
