A note from Mr. Hughes

Last weekend our boys' and girls' basketball teams competed in the Floyd County Elementary Basketball League tournament at Scribner Middle School. The boys won on Saturday, but lost a hard-fought game to Grant Line on Sunday. Our girls won all three of their games over the weekend defeating Floyds Knobs in the championship game Sunday afternoon. Emily Robison was named Most Valuable Player. Congratulations to Emily and the girls' team! Both teams played hard all season and did a great job representing Mt. Tabor. Go Tigers!

Our newly formed robotics team competed against area elementary and middle schools in their first ever competition last Saturday in Scottsburg. Mt. Tabor came in 23rd place out of 39 teams. Our students did a fantastic job! We were the only New Albany – Floyd County elementary school that participated in this competition. A big thanks to Mr. Scott Burch and Mr. Mike Burch for serving as our teacher sponsors.

A reminder that there will be school on Monday, February 18th to make up a previously missed snow day. Also, progress reports (3rd quarter) were sent home with students on Thursday. Please contact your child's teacher if you did not receive your child's progress report or have any questions. Have a wonderful weekend!

Power: Free Will

Skill: Choices

Value: Commitment

Reason: The only person you can make change is yourself

Catch yourself when you say, "How can I make my child _____?" change the question to "How can I help my child to be more likely to choose _____?"

Change your "shoulds" to "coulds." Then make a choice and live with it.

Allow others to have their own thoughts and feelings. Pay attention to what you feel when people disagree with you. (Most of us feel threatened.)

Resist the need to make others happy or convince them that you have all the answers. Remind yourself three times a day, "The only person I can make change is myself." Then choose to be pleasant and share that with others.

Choices: Building self-esteem and willpower

Discern how much influence a child has in a given situation. Can she choose to stay up or must she go to bed?
Can she choose what to wear or must she wear certain attire?

Check to see when you offer your child too many choices and when you offer too few.

Do not give children choices in areas where you are afraid to make a decision. You give children two positive choices as a way of setting limits.

Figure out when to give an assertive command and when to offer two positive choices. For most children, assertive commands are best when they are feeling overwhelmed or anxious. Choices are more helpful when children want to feel empowered. They work wonderfully with empathy. As children make choices and experience the success that comes from their decisions, they learn the value of commitment.

School will be in session on Monday, February 18, 2019 as a snow make-up day.

Our second snow make-up day will be Monday, March 18, 2019.

Congratulations!

Mt. Tabors girl's basketball team won the FCEBL tournament on Sunday February 3, 2019.

Way to go!
